"PREPARED BY AND FOR THE WALT DISNEY WORLD CAST"

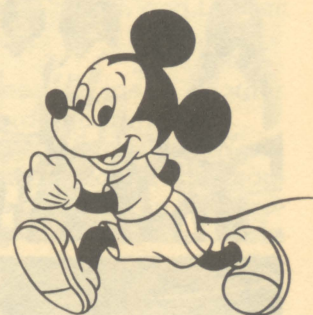

MARCH 26, 1982

DID YOU SURVIVE ST. PAT'S 1982?

It was foggy in the mornin' to be sure, but the sun broke through and it was another "Disney Day" as always. Thanks to great help from all quarters, a total of 112 runners started and survived the race. Up hill and down dale they went — the times were great and the results, which follow, were interesting to say the least.

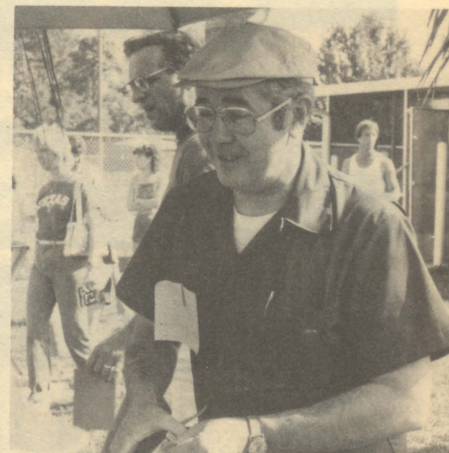

With deadlines upon us we'll let the pictures and statistics tell the story till next week, when St. Pat, alias "Murph" himself provides us with full details.

THE MOVE TO EPCOT CENTER

Several weeks ago, the EYES & EARS introduced the Manpower Planning Department and explained its role in the monumental task of staffing Epcot Center. With this challenge growing closer every day, we spoke with John Brownlee, Manager of Manpower Planning, regarding the different aspects of the transfer policy for cast members wanting to work at Epcot Center, and here's what he told us:

(Q) How do I transfer to Epcot Center?

(A) As you might expect, the most logical and economical way to approach Epcot Center Manpower Planning is to staff Epcot Center as an "extension" of existing divisions. Simply said, the Operations Division will give Operations hosts and hostesses the first opportunity to transfer to Operations positions in Epcot Center; Merchandise hosts and hostesses will be the first to transfer to Epcot Center Merchandise positions; and so on. Interdivisional transfers will then be handled through the Manpower Planning coordinators and CPPO. Casting will then hire new cast members to fill vacancies left as a result of the transfer process.

Also, the transfer process we're incorporating for Epcot Center is no different from the one that exists at WDW today for any transfer to any division. For example, if you are a host or hostess interested in a lateral transfer to Epcot Center, whether you are in a division directly related to Epcot Center or not you will go to your division training office. If you're applying for a clerical position, you will contact CPPO or your training office. And in Maintenance, you will follow the normal posting procedure that exists today. As we said before, the policy hasn't changed from our current one.

Another important aspect of this transfer process is that most positions will not be available until September and cast members should not begin contacting training offices and CPPO now. As positions become available, we'll inform cast members through their Training Offices and through CASTING CALL, CPPO's job availability bulletin.

(Q) When will the staffing process begin?

(A) As the EYES & EARS stated several weeks ago, the staffing timetable is very similar to the schedule used just before WDW opened. At that time, interviews were held during the summer of 1971, with most cast members starting to work in August and September of that year. In light of a similar timetable for Epcot Center, the transfer process will begin later this spring and continue into the summer, with most moves occurring in September.

(Q) Who will be selected to fill these positions?

(A) As in any other transfer within WDW, several standard requirements must be met by the transfer applicant. As always, he or she must demonstrate good performance and presenteeism in the six months prior to beginning the transfer proceedings and must also have full schedule availability and reliable transportation both to and from work. Because of state liquor laws and interchangeability requirements, all Epcot Center cast members must be at least 18 years old.

Also, one of the things we must remember is that the Magic Kingdom and the rest of the areas within WDW must still be run after Epcot Center opens. We will continue to uphold the 10-year reputation that we've worked so hard to earn, and therefore many good employees will be required to remain in their present positions, creating a balanced distribution of seasoned pros providing leadership and continuity throughout the Magic Kingdom, Epcot Center, the Resorts, and every other part of WDW.

(Q) If I don't transfer to Epcot Center before Opening Day, will I have other chances to do so later?

(A) Additional transfer opportunities will become available as new pavilions open and new shows are added. Because we're opening Epcot Center during our slowest guest period, it's almost certain we'll be reinforcing the Epcot Center cast around George Washington's birthday, the beginning of our busy spring season.

(Q) How many new positions are being created by Epcot Center?

(A) As we mentioned in the recent article, approximately 3,000 positions are required at Epcot Center for Opening Day. This number includes approximately 325 salaried and 150 office and clerical positions.

(Q) If a cast member really wanted to transfer into Epcot Center and was willing to work any position, which division would offer the most jobs?

(A) In numerical order, the greatest opportunities fall in the Custodial and Food & Beverage areas with smaller numbers of jobs available in Merchandise, Attractions, Entertainment, Tickets, Transportation, and Maintenance.

One of the areas not often thought of when considering a transfer or career change is the office/clerical and hourly finance positions in Admissions, Cash Control, and Deposit Operations.

(Q) Will I need to speak another language in order to transfer?

(A) Not to transfer into Future World or other positions around the property. However, a unique requirement existing in World Showcase was mentioned in last week's EYES & EARS. Our Company plans to staff with cast members who represent each country authentically. With this week's edition of CASTING CALL, we're beginning to identify cast members who represent one of the eight World Showcase countries and those who are bilingual.

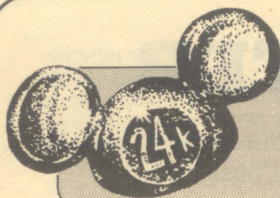

Don't forget that many positions will also be available in the Magic Kingdom and other areas around WDW due to cast members transferring into Epcot Center.

(Q) Can I plan on having the same schedule and days off at Epcot Center as I have in my present job?

(A) Specific shifts and days off cannot be guaranteed at the time of transfer. Your seniority will be taken into consideration in the same manner that it is today.

As always the EYES & EARS will keep you informed of the latest developments at Epcot Center, so stay tuned in the weeks and months ahead — many more exciting stories will follow.

CHARLIE BARBER AND RAYMOND NOE RETIRE TODAY

If you're looking for Raymond Noe after Friday, March 26, 1982, you'd best check the Blue Ridge Mountains of Virginia, because after his retirement on that day, Raymond says that's where he'll spend his summers. Only when the winter comes to the mountains will he head back to sunny Florida!

Currently a member of the Landscaping Department, Raymond joined the cast in November 1971, working first at the Contemporary Resort Hotel, then at the Polynesian Village and finally in Landscaping. Good luck to you, Raymond.

If Charlie Barber had one wish it would be to be young again and just starting out with WDW because according to him, "there's so much to look forward to in the future!"

Realizing this just can't happen, Charlie is retiring from WDW today after 10 years of service, 9½ years of it spent in the Staff Shop. He joined the cast in 1972.

After moving to Florida in 1958 from North Carolina, he worked with the police departments in Winter Garden and Boise Cascade before coming to WDW. Charlie plans to spend his time fishing, boating and dancing now. Best wishes to you Charlie.

SWING INTO SPRING WITH THE "SPRING FLING!"

What a celebration planned for April 2 from 9 p.m. until 1:30 a.m. It's the Tencennial World Series of Entertainment "Spring Fling" and you're welcome to attend.

Tickets are now on sale at Fantasyland Cash Control, Cast Activities, and the Walt Disney World Village Cash Control for $9.50 per person. All cast members must have tickets because Main Gate Passes, admission tickets, and regular passports will not be honored during the "Spring Fling."

Please remember that no admission will be allowed through the tunnel or employee gates and all cast members attending as guests are required to park in the main guest parking lot.

Details are listed below:

FAMILY FILM FESTIVAL

THE ARISTOCATS
